

AUGUST 13-17 • 5:00-10:00 PM
NETTLETON CENTER

INTRO TO

BIBLICAL COUNSELING

MODULE

Equipping you to grow in your own life and assist others

Taught by Dr. Jeff Newman

AUGUST 13-17 • 5:00-10:00 PM
NETTLETON CENTER

INTRO TO

BIBLICAL COUNSELING

MODULE

Equipping you to grow in your own life and assist others

Taught by Dr. Jeff Newman

INTRODUCTION TO BIBLICAL COUNSELING

This course is a study of a Biblical philosophy and methodology of counseling, as well as a practical approach to selected counseling problems using the Word of God.

Topics considered are the qualifications of the Biblical counselor, a basic Biblical anthropology, the sufficiency of the Scriptures, the sufficiency of Christ, basic principles of progressive sanctification, and the responsibility of the local church in Biblical counseling.

In addition, the student will be taught basic methods of counseling including assisting him or her to:

- Understand the character and role of relationship in counseling
- Gather and interpret Biblically the details of people's lives
- Have conversations with people to help them interpret and live their lives through the lens of the Bible
- Give structure and direction that provide people with encouragement and the opportunity to live life in its details with faith in Christ

INTRODUCTION TO BIBLICAL COUNSELING

This course is a study of a Biblical philosophy and methodology of counseling, as well as a practical approach to selected counseling problems using the Word of God.

Topics considered are the qualifications of the Biblical counselor, a basic Biblical anthropology, the sufficiency of the Scriptures, the sufficiency of Christ, basic principles of progressive sanctification, and the responsibility of the local church in Biblical counseling.

In addition, the student will be taught basic methods of counseling including assisting him or her to:

- Understand the character and role of relationship in counseling
- Gather and interpret Biblically the details of people's lives
- Have conversations with people to help them interpret and live their lives through the lens of the Bible
- Give structure and direction that provide people with encouragement and the opportunity to live life in its details with faith in Christ